I. INTRODUCTION

Drug abuse is a very popular case around the world because the crime is very systematically organized, the spread has a wide network because it can generate huge profits for the dealer, and is very detrimental to drug users, because it can cause a fairly wide negative impact, both psychic, physical, social, cultural interaction disorders, until the user will later experience dependence against drugs used. If drug abuse cannot be anticipated properly, then what will be damaged is the nation and the state. Therefore, it is very important to cooperate from all fronts and the nation's competitors to overcome drug abuse so that things do not happen that will harm the country. (Soedjono, 2000 : 41)

Dimanjau from the use of drugs is very necessary for medical treatment or health services, but when drugs are not used according to the doctor's standard of treatment, then it is certainly a case of drug abuse that is very disturbing, especially if the pengedaran is carried out in the dark, it is certainly very detrimental, both individually and in society, and does not rule out the possibility of the next generation of young people of this nation as well will be a victim. Therefore, to eradicate drug abuse, Indonesia regulates the narcotics law in Law No. 22 of 1997. The law threatens the misuse and distribution of narcotics with fines, imprisonment, life imprisonment, and death row inmates.

Of course, it aims to build and realize a healthy, just, prosperous, and prosperous Indonesian society based on the state ideology of Pancasila and the 1945 Constitution of the Republic of Indonesia. In addition to development in the field of science through education, Indonesia also strives to create a healthy Indonesian society by developing treatments to improve health services, this is what encourages some parties in Indonesia to legalize cannabis if it is used for medicinal media. The push could come as some countries that have already legalized marijuana, including neighboring Thailand, in Asia Thailand was the first country to legalize marijuana, and has removed cannabis from the list of illicit drugs. As a country rich in nature including cannabis, Indonesia will also try to review whether the legalization of cannabis can also be applied in Indonesia, because if the government makes the wrong decision, the victims are the community and the next generation.

From the news in the tempo.co and kompas.com media. In addition to Thailand, countries that have already legalized marijuana are Colombia, Mexico, the United States, Canada, Germany, Italy, South Africa, Australia, Argentina, Ecuador, Peru, Spain, Uruguay, and Cyprus. Many other states are discussing the legalization of marijuana. The tempo.co and kompas.com media have been presenting news about the legality of marijuana because recently it has often become a conversation in the mass media. The media tempo.co move massively to inform the development of marijuana legalization to the public in online media owned by Tempo and Kompas media, namely tempo.co, and kompas.com, this can certainly make it easier for the public to obtain actual information related to the development of cannabis legalization for medical purposes. Therefore, researchers make this a source of formulation of the problem, namely how is the representation of the development of the legality of cannabis in the frame of the confiscation of online media tempo.co and kompas.com?

II. RESEARCH METHODOLOGY

Representation of Development

According to the sociologists who is also a cultural and political theorist, namely Stuart Hall, the most important thing in representation is the use of language in conveying something to others (Hall:1997:15). Representation is a concept that exists in the mind and is expressed using language, both written language, visual language using photos, and body language. Two other notions of relevant are put forward by The Shorter Oxford English Dictionary, which is simply to represent is to describe it. Terkadang appears in the form of images or imaginations in the mind that are captured by the senses when a person is representing something. In representing something one must have a concept, without the concept of representation put forward it will be irregular, and the representation will fail.

Next is development, development is a word that is very often heard by many people. Because development is very synonymous with ideals, namely development is an effort to realize desires, both personal desires and national desires, which these desires have been prepared first, often referred to as vision and mission. Indonesians often associate the word development only in physical issues, for example the construction of roads, houses, offices, and other infrastructure. In fact, if studied more deeply, development is not only a physical problem, but also non-physical. Examples include the development of human nature through parental upbringing, educational development through improving the quality of teachers and good programs to support the development of student science. Therefore, in general, development is any effort to realize a better quality of life. Both personally and in society. Referred to the Indonesian nation, the ultimate goal of Indonesia's development is in accordance with the ideology of Pancasila, which is contained in the fifth precept or the last precept which reads to realize social justice for all Indonesians. These ideals are the representations that are in the development of Indonesia (Tjokrowinoto, 1996: 1).

Legalization of Marijuana

Cannabis in Indonesia is also called mariyuana, taitu is one of the illegal plants in Indonesia because the cannabis plant contains addictive substances that are prohibited. Cannabis is classified as a psychotropic that contains tetrahydrocannabinol and cannabiniol which causes the wearer to experience unrealistic physical and emotional feelings or be in awang-awang, this trait is called euphoric nature.

Legality comes from the basic word "Legal" which is matters related to and in accordance with the rule of law or legislation. Referred to from the Big Indonesian Dictionary (KBBI), legality has the meaning of a legal situation or subject and has validity, so legality can be interpreted as any act or object that has been allowed or recognized by some that is not through the law and some have been regulated in state law. Regarding the principle of legality, referred to through the Criminal Code (KUHP) the meaning of this principle of legality as stated in Article 1 Paragraph (1) of the Criminal Code which in essence an act cannot be judged as criminal unless it has been regulated by the force of existing legislation, or in accordance with an adage that reads non obligat lex nisi promulgate or which has the meaning of a law that is not binding unless it has been enacted.

News in the Mass Media

According to Soehoet, who is a journalist who has been in the press since 1948, news is a description of events or the content of human statements (Semi: 1995). Yosef also defines a news story, which is a current report on an important or interesting fact for the audience, which is disseminated through the mass media. According to Djuraid, news is a report or notification of an event or situation of a general nature and has just occurred, which is conveyed by mass media reporters (Junaedhie: 1991).

It can be concluded that news is one of the journalistic products that contains information about events or events that are factual and actual that have been or are happening through various mass media, such as online, print, and television. The news presented in the mass media is not always the same, there are news that is presented inside news magazines but not found in newspapers, there are news that is presented through online media but not presented through television media, there are news that is heard through radio broadcasts but not presented through online media, and of course sometimes all media can present the same news.

This is of course because due to differences in the media and differences in the Editor's understanding of which news can be judged as interesting and uninteresting, and which is judged to include news and which is not news, or if it is indeed recognized as news, and includes interesting news, there may also still be considerations about the availability of space to contain the news, That is what requires the need for selection to load news to the media.

Research Methodology

This research is a case study reseacrh research (case study research). According to Creswell (2007) a case study is a study that examines a related case. This research uses a qualitative research method of descriptive analysis where there is no need to use numbers in the study. According to Nugrahani (2014) qualitative research is a type of research that produces new discoveries where these discoveries cannot be obtained by statistical data or other quantitative research. This research uses data collection techniques through library analysis and observation, on writing or news data contained in tempo.co and kompas.com media.

The function of data analysis is to condense very diverse data obtained from news about the legality of cannabis in tempo.co and kompas.com media into empirical and concise data so that it is easy to understand and understand by readers. In this study, the researcher had primary data and secondary data, and the primary was all news about the legality of ganja that the researcher analyzed in the tempo.co and kompas.com media. The secondary data are books and journals related to the study. Therefore, the author will use techniques to maintain the validity of triangulation data, namely checking data that has been obtained from various informants in various ways, 3 types of triangulation examinations, namely source triangulation, triangulation of data collection techniques, and time triangulation. (Sugiyono, 2007:372).

III. RESULT AND ANALYSIS

[Bookman Old Style 11, justify, The author performs an analysis of the syntactic structure and script structure of all the news that the researcher has selected. The function of analyzing news is to find out about the development of marijuana legality in the two online media, namely: online media tempo.co and kompas.com. Here are the details of the news that the author has obtained from the two media:

News Analysis

The first news that researchers analyzed was a news from Tempo.co media, titled "Learning the Legalization of Marijuana From Thailand". The news was published Tuesday, July 19, 2022, at 20:15 WIB. Written by Hotma Radja Siregar.

a. Syntactic structure

Analyzed through the title and lead in the first news, the news explained that if the application for cannabis legalization is approved, Indonesia can learn and imitate from Thailand, which has already legalized marijuana. Indonesia can learn more about how to make the most of and manage medical marijuana, because Thailand can be a reference for Indonesia. Analyzed from the overall content of the news, at the beginning of July tempo media has sent a young female journalist from the national committee to Thailand, namely Budiarti Utami Putri. While in Thailand Putri will seek information on how Thailand can legalize Marijuana and how Thailand conditions after legalizing Marijuana. It turns out that Thailand benefits a lot in other sectors besides medical. After the journalist Putri visited one of the Cannabis plantations in Chiang Mai, the benefits of Cannabis plantations are very large in the tourism sector and the economy, from the data obtained over the last 5 years, the income from the legalization of Marijuana reached Rp. 40 trillion.

b. Script Structure

In every news, the most important thing to analyze is the 5w + 1H element, because it is very important to write and inform the content of the news. In the news "Learning the Legalization of Cannabis From Thailand", all the elements of 5W + 1H have existed, because we can see in the syntactic structure, that the delivery of information and writing on the news has contained all the elements of 5W + 1H.

News Analysis 2

The second news that researchers analyzed was a news from Kompas.com media, titled "Government Urged to Immediately Give Permission to Research Cannabis for Medical Purposes". The news was published on Wednesday, July 20, 2022, 21:18 WIB. Written by Tatang Guritno.

a. Syntactic Structure

Analyzed through the title and lead in the second news, the news explained that the government was urged by the Director of the Sativa Nusantara Foundation (YSN), namely Ibuk Dhira Narayana, to immediately grant cannabis research permits for medical needs. YSN believes the research will benefit humanity.

b. Script Structure

In the news "Government Urged to Immediately Give Permission to Research Cannabis for Medical Purposes", the news already contains elements of 5W + 1H. The script structure on the news explains that another reason that prompted YSN to collaborate to deceive the government in Cannabis research was because it had learned from community case studies, for example, the case of Mrs. Santi who is struggling to treat her child who needs Marijuana, because her child has a disease called Cerebral Palsy, which is a brain disorder that the most effective treatment therapy should be to use cannabis seed oil or called CBD oil, which is what makes YSN moved to collaborate to urge the government to authorizing cannabis research for medical purposes so that it can be useful for people who are forced to need Marijuana as a cure for diseases.

News Analysis 3

The third news that researchers analyzed was news from Kompas.com media, entitled "Medical Cannabis Problem, IDI Encourages Assessment Based on Evidence Based Medicine". The news was published on Friday, July 2, 2022, 17:34 WIB. Written by Fika Nurul Ulya.

a. Syntactic Structure

The researcher analyzed the headline and lead of the news, it can be concluded that Mr. Dzuabairi Djoerban, the executive board of the Indonesian Doctors Association (IDI) proposed that a study be carried out related to the legalization of medical marijuana based on Evidence Based Medicine (EBM). Evidence Based Medicine (EBM) is a method of medical approach based on the latest scientific evidence for the needs of health services for patients or sufferers.

b. Script Structure

In the news "About Medical Marijuana, IDI Encourages Assessment Based on Evidence Based Medicine". The structure of the news script explains that EBM is often used to approach patients to the medical world. The EBM approach is also used when Indonesia is affected by the Covid-19 outbreak. At the beginning of the pandemic, there were drugs that were given distribution permits due to the emergency use of Covid-19 drugs, namely chloroquine, but their users to patients were limited, because chloroquine has a function therapeutic, in the past the drug was often used because the drug was a malaria drug, and logically the symptoms of Covid-19 were similar to malaria. Now the drug has been banned from treating Covid-19 patients because after research, the drug has no obvious side effects and benefits in Covid-19 patients. The IDI therefore advises the Government to allow the assessment of medical cannabis by applying the EBM approach, but the IDI also explains that the drug must first be tested against animals before to Man to avoid drug failure. If the drug is successful, then it is further tested on humans in small-scale and limited quantities, if the drug is already believed to be 100% and has been proven, then the drug licensed and widely circulated.

News Analysis 4

The fourth piece of news that researchers analyzed was a news story from Tempo.co media, titled "Legalization of Marijuana, BNN: Little Opened More People Wear". The news was published Senin, July 1, 8, 2022, at 21:28 WIB. Written by Ryan Mulana.

a. Syntactic Structure

After the researcher analyzed the headlines and leads of the news, it can be concluded that the National Narcotics Agency (BNN) strongly rejects the plan to legalize marijuana, because BNN sees from Law No.35 of 2009, that marijuana is a class 1 narcotic, so it should not be used for health care. BNN also believes that if legalization is allowed, more Indonesians will use marijuana.

b. Script Structure

In the news "Legalization of Cannabis, BNN: Little Opened More People Wear". The structure of the news script explains that the reason BNN strongly rejects the marijuana legalization plan is because BNN assesses the negative effects of cannabis as more than its positive benefits, things that's what caused BNN to insist that marijuana is more common. In addition, BNN also suggested that the efficacy of cannabis for health needs to be reviewed more deeply and proven by research and clinical trials.

News Analysis 5

The fifth news that researchers analyzed was a news from the Tempo.co media, entitled "Legalization of Marijuana Ran aground in the Constitutional Court, Commission III of the House of Representatives: Later Discussed During the Revision of the Narcotics Law". The news was published Senin, July 21, 2022, at 19:10WIB. Written by Juli Hantoro.

a. Structure Syntax

After the researcher analyzed the headlines and leads of the news, it can be concluded that, Trimedya Panjaitan, a member of commission III of the House of Representatives, explained that the plan to legalize marijuana to obtain permission ran aground at the Constitutional Court (MK). With this effort running aground, Trimedya Panjaitan gave assurances that the plan to legalize marijuana will be discussed by the House again on the revision of the Narcotics Law.

b. Script Structure

In the news "Marijuana Legalization Ran aground in the Constitutional Court, Commission III of the House of Representatives: Later Discussed During the Revision of the Narcotics Law". The script structure on the news explained that after the cannabis legalization efforts in the Constitutional Court ran aground, the majority of the members of Commission III of the House of Representatives supported the public who demanded the legalization of marijuana for medical purposes. There are six plaintiffs listed by the House, one of which is Ibuk Santi Warastuti, her son suffers from Cerebral Palsy, a rare disease that requires cannabis therapy, Even if the Constitutional Court refuses legalization of marijuana, but the Constitutional Court still gives empathy to all people with diseases that he said require the use of class 1 narcotic therapy, but according to the Constitutional Court this has not valid, and still need to be done again scientifically reviewed and proven.

News Analysis 6

The sixth news that researchers analyzed was a news from the Kompas.com media, entitled "The Demise of the Medical Marijuana Legalization Lawsuit in Indonesia and the Stories of the Struggle Behind It". The news was published on Friday, July 2, 2022, 06:00 WIB. Written by Fitria Chusna Farisa.

a. Syntactic Structure

After the researchers conducted a title and lead analysis on the news, it can be concluded that the prosecution's hopes of legalizing marijuana for the government to allow marijuana in medical interests finally ran aground in Constitutional Court (MK) on Wednesday, July 20, 2022. The prosecution was three mothers whose children needed medical marijuana for treatment. The prosecution requested that the material test of the Law on narcotics be carried out in Law No. 35 of 2009, for the legalization of marijuana, this was rejected directly by the Constitutional Court.

b. Script Structure

In the news "The Demise of the Medical Marijuana Legalization Lawsuit in Indonesia and the Stories of the Struggle Behind It". The script structure explains after the request for legalization of marijuana was rejected directly by the Constitutional Court, there was a moving struggle from Mothers who struggled to try to cure their children, and there was also The story of the husband who fought for his wife's recovery. The story is based on fish in Sanggau Regency, West Kalimantan. Suami named Arie Sudewarto grows marijuana in his yard to treat his wife who is named Yeni. Before getting a cannabis treatment, Yeni's condition was very concerned. Yeni has insomnia, can't eat, and even Yeni's body has open wounds, but after receiving medical marijuana treatment, body and condition Yeni's health began to improve. Unfortunately, on 02/19/2017, National Narcotics Agency (BNN) officers arrested Arie because he was caught growing 39 sticks of marijuana in his yard (Kompas.com).

Discussion

As the object of study, the researcher had 6 news of the legality of marijuana from the tempo.co and kompas.com media. There are four subjects that researchers analyze in these news, namely: define the problem, causal interpretation (conduct an analysis to find the cause of the problem), make moral judgement (framing analysis used for justifying argumentation) i.e. the argumentation of all figures in the news, and the treatment recommendation (Treatment Recommendations) of the applicant. The news frame that researchers get from observing news headlines, photos on the news, the names of the parties on the news is a collection of moving and calculating events from the MK and BNN, to the point of forming perspectives and views of the community.

The media that researchers research is the news of the legality of marijuana in online media tempo.co and Kompas.com. Researchers observed all the news of marijuana legality already in the detailed tablen in the results of the study. The framing analysis that researchers got from the news frame in the two media is that there are some differences found in the two media in processing marijuana legalization news. said. The difference that researchers get lies in the events contained in both media. News of the legalization of cannabis on the media tempo.co more fokus to the policy issues of the government delegation, such as the Constitutional Court and BNN and the documentation on the news also contains two types of documentation, i.e. accompanied by photos andn videos. Meanwhile, the news of marijuana legalization in the Kompas.com media is more focused on the development of the events of the struggle for the cannabis legalization and documentation on the media Kompas.com only use photos only.

IV. CONCLUSION

Regarding the above research, the author concludes that the struggle of the petitioners to realize the legalization of marijuana ran aground in the constitutional court (MK). There are many heartwarming stories in the struggle for marijuana legalization. For example, the story of Mr. Arie who wants to heal his wife buk Yeni, and the story of three mothers who fight for the recovery of their children . While the stories are deeply moving, but the government has reviewed the permasof the land, if marijuana is legalized, the government explains that it is likely that there will be many people who abuse the marijuana. Now that cannabis is banned in the Act, but there are still many who abuse this type of narcotics, which is a strong reason the government has rejected the application. legalization of such marijuana.
